

The Greater Store as a Fashion Centre

The new store is pre-eminently the fashion centre of the metropolitan district. Indeed, why should it not be? Is this not the newest of the country's great stores? Have not our buyers and commissionaires been conducting a six months' world search of new goods? Did not our great removal sale, which is still fresh in the minds of everyone, enable us to dispose of every dollar's worth of surplus merchandise in the old store which we vacated one week ago tomorrow night? Have we not promised you repeatedly that the new store would be new in everything but the policy? The new store is new—in construction, in interior fittings, in stocks. The new building glorifies its wares and is in turn glorified by them. The wonderful Gothic structure, with its broad aisles and its rich appointments is a fitting resting place for exquisite things in wearing apparel which our buying organization has gathered together with such discrimination and care. The beautiful new store is a charming frame for the most lavish fashion picture that Newark ever gazed upon. If you have not yet visited Newark's great style show, by all means do so Saturday. The Bamberger store will be yours from 8:30 Saturday morning until 9 o'clock Saturday night. Arrange to spend the day here.

GIRL FORGER ONLY 15, SAYS FATHER

Parent Pleads for Pittsburgh
Lass Held in Tren-

TRENTON, Oct. 18.—That Lota Glazer, held in jail here, charged with attempting to pass forged checks signed with the name of Frank N. Hoffstott, Pittsburgh millionaire, is only 15 years old instead of 20, as she asserted when arrested, was brought out in a letter received by the Trenton authorities.

The letter was written by Herman Glazer, of Springfield, O., father of the girl, who learned through the newspapers that she had been arrested after leaving a trail of bad checks through Erie, Harrisburg, Pittsburgh, Philadelphia, Baltimore and other cities.

Wherever the girl went she was accompanied by a flashy dressed man who, the police say, took no open part in the check transactions. He was with her in Trenton when she was arrested, but deserted her. The police believe he used her as a tool and fled to save himself the moment danger threatened.

In his letter Mr. Glazer, after giving his daughter's correct age, said: "We are poor, but if you will tell us where we can find a little store we will come to Trenton and live there just to show you that our little girl is not a bad girl, but just led astray by a handsome madman."

As the girl is only 15 the lines of the prosecution may be changed. Her case has been presented to the grand jury, but the idea was that she was 20. There is hardly a doubt that an indictment would have been found.

CHIDES HER GIRL PUPILS WHO PAINT THEIR FACES

cent Hose.

BAYONNE, Oct. 18.—The girls in the High School of Bayonne use altogether too much paint to beautify their complexions, was the assertion made yesterday by Miss Oldham, who has charge of the girl students.

"This is a public school and not an art gallery," said Miss Oldham. "Besides, I think the complexion of the average American girl is such that it is harmed instead of improved by artificial devices."

Miss Oldham also lectured the girls on their clothing. She said many of the girls had gotten into the habit of wearing hose of too loud a color, and announced that in the future hose and shoes would be confined to black and tan colors.

Club championship prize, large sterling silver punch bowl; Veteran's cup, sterling silver; President's cup, sterling silver; New Jersey State Championship cup, sterling silver; Women's Metropolitan Team Championship cup, Class B, sterling silver; Women's Selected Score Prize, tall sterling silver vase.

PROMINENT BUSINESS MEN

Heartily Indorse Lieutenant
Ballard's Wonderful Theory.

J. W. HODGSON ONE OF MANY

Local Merchant Is Grateful for What the Tissue-Builder Has Done for Him.

The following experience, related by John W. Hodgson, No. 97 Brookdale avenue, the well-known business man, is but one of many expressions of gratitude that are addressed to Lieutenant R. T. Ballard, who is introducing the remarkable tissue-builder, Vin Hepatica, at the Menk Pharmacy, 106 Market street.

Mr. Hodgson said: "I have been in a rundown, nervous condition for some time. I have had great trouble in getting restful sleep and my bowels have been the occasion of much trouble to me. I have also been a sufferer from catarrh of the stomach for some time. The dropping of mucus into my throat upon arising in the morning was almost unbearable. It would take me a long time to clear my throat. Besides, I had pains in my head and a roaring, buzzing sound in my ears when my trouble was unusually bad."

"I had an irregular appetite, poor digestion, gas on my stomach, palpitation of the heart and was always constipated. I was troubled with dizziness, had a bad taste in my mouth and tired easily."

"I tried various remedies and doctors, but obtained no relief until I began taking Vin Hepatica. It has done me more good than all the other medicines I have ever taken. From the very first it helped me and I now feel better than I have for a long time. In fact, I feel like a new person and I give entire credit to Vin Hepatica for this cure."

No thinking person will neglect catarrh, for to its spread is due about 90 per cent. of all stomach disorders. It is also known to be the cause of deafness in 80 cases out of every 100. This being the case it is surprising how quickly catarrhal affections are relieved by Vin Hepatica after everything else has failed to do the work.

Lieutenant R. T. Ballard has his headquarters at Menk's Pharmacy, where he is meeting callers daily and explaining the nature of this new tissue-builder, Vin Hepatica. Lieutenant Ballard will be at this drug store between the hours of 9 a. m. and 6 p. m., week days and until 9 p. m. Saturday night.
